2. Bunkers Constructed at the Junction of the Oder and Neisse Rivers.

[REDACTED] two concrete bunkers on the east bank of the Oder River near Schiedlo (O 54/V 80) and south of Rampnitz (O 54/V 71) were occupied by Polish soldiers. The bunkers were constructed in June 1952. Additional excavation work hidden behind wooden fences was observed at the dam between these bunkers and between Rampnitz and Fuerstenberg (O 54/V 71).

3. Since June 1952 all civilians have been evacuated from all villages on the east bank of the Oder River. No work was done in the fields and no cattle were seen in the meadows.

Polish Infantry Unit in Oppeln.

4. Prior to late April 1952, the barracks installation just north of Vogtsdorf in Oppeln (P 51/J 17) quartered two battalions of a Polish infantry regiment. **
